Introduction

- All religions are prepared for the 3rd Coming of Adam
- Islam talks about The Imam and Mahdi

- For Jews the Messiah is the long-awaited man "anointed of God" to provide the chosen people and the world at large with a just, durable and peaceful social order in accordance with the Torah and God's ultimate purpose for mankind.

- For Christians Jesus was the Messiah (Greek: "Christ") who came to fulfill that hope, teach men the religion of love, serve as an example of what God expects of His children, cleanse them of original sin, joint them toward the kingdom to come wherein God's will would be done on earth as it is in heaven.

- Since the first advent did fully accomplish this, traditional Christianity looks forward to the return of the Messiah to complete the restoration of the world.

However, Sunnite doctrine teaches that at some future time, a Mahdi will come to establish the kingdom of God on earth. Shi'ites believe that this Mahdi to come will be the hidden Imam they have long awaited.*

- For Muslims the Imam-Mahdi is a figure with a function comparable to that of the Christian Messiah.
Thus, like Judaism and Christianity, Islam can be called a messianic faith.

Both Sunni Muslims and Shia are awaiting a person whose is referred to as Al-Mahdi (Mehdi)
Shia call him Imam Mahdi because they are expecting him to be their 12th Imam.

The Kaaba, in Mecca Saudi Arabia, is the center of Islam. Muslims from all over the world gather there to pray in unity.

Muslims believe that Allah, God is one and incomparable and that the purpose of life is to worship God.

Muslims also believe that Islam is the completed and universal version of a primordial, monotheistic faith revealed at many times and places before, including notably, to the prophets Abraham, Moses and Jesus and that previous messages and revelations have been changed and distorted over time.

The Five Pillars of Islam are five concepts, basic to accepting the religion for Shia Muslims, and five essential practices for Sunni Muslims.

According to Shia Islam, the five basic pillars are:

1. Monotheism, God is one and unique.
2. Justice, the concept of moral rightness based on ethics,
3. Fairness
4. Equity
5. Punishment of the breach of said ethics.

Shia Islam

Shi`ite Muslims hold that there are five articles of belief:

1. Tawhīd, the Divine Oneness and Justice of Allah,
2. Nubuwwah, the Prophethood,
3. Qiyamah, the Imamate, Justice, and Judgment Day.

The Shi'ite do not believe in complete predestination, or complete free will.

They believe that human life is a mixture of free will and predestination.

Shi`ite Muslims hold that there are five articles of belief:

4. Adalah (Justice): The Justice of Allah.

5. Imamah (Leadership): God has appointed specific leaders to lead and guide mankind — a prophet appoints a custodian of the religion before his demise.

Sunni Islam

Five Pillars of Islam are:

1. Shahadah, which is the basic creed of Islam that must be recited under oath with the specific statement:

"ašhadu 'al-la ilaha illa-llahu wa 'ašhadu 'anna muhammadan rasulu-llah", or “

I testify that there is none worthy of worship except Allah and I testify that Muhammad is the Messenger of Allah.”

This testament is a foundation for all other beliefs and practices in Islam.

Muslims must repeat the shahadah in prayer.

Quranic quote from Peace Ambassador:

"Surely, those who believe (Muslims) and those who are Jews and the Christians and the Sabians (old arabic people), whoever believes in God and the last day and does good, they have their reward with their Lord and there is no fear for them nor shall they grieve." (2:62)

FAQ:

UNIFICATIONISM AND ISLAM: MUTUAL RESPECT AND
JOINT EFFORTS TO BENEFIT THE WORLD

Overview of Unificationism and Islam:

Unification teaching recognizes the Prophet Mohammed and the religion of Islam that is based on the truths revealed through him as pivotal in God's providence of restoration.

That is, Unificationism believes that, as with other major faiths of the world, Islam plays a particular role in guiding the human family into a relationship of unity with God and harmony among races, nations and peoples.

Because Islam is the newest major faith on earth, older religions say nothing about it and offer no guidance to their followers regarding how they should view Muslims and Islam.

This is one of the root causes of the great misunderstanding between Islam and other faiths, especially Christianity, and the conflicts that characterize many of the relations Islam has with other religions.

Unificationism, however, looks at the full landscape of God's work to uplift and save people everywhere, over the centuries of human history, from the perspective of the world today.

This means that Unificationists are taught the value of Islam and Muslims, and seek to actively work with them to achieve inter-religious harmony, world peace and a better life for all.

A good number of Muslims are active in Unification projects, and a good number of Unificationists are active in supporting Muslim projects.

And Unification organizations and individuals have initiated and participated in a wide range of inter-faith initiatives with Muslim scholars and leaders.

The Jewish-Palestine conflict in light of DP:

As discussed in the Principle, Ishmael, the elder of Abraham's two sons, could not receive God's blessing when Abraham's position as a father of faith was passed to Isaac, the second son.

Abraham made a mistake in the sacrifice of birds and animals but through his determination to restore that mistake he offered his son (Isaac) as sacrifice.

In the original dispensation, Abraham was to lay a foundation of faith after which Ishmael and Isaac would lay a foundation of substance.

God's blessing would then have been given to Isaac and Ishmael.

Because Ishmael was not responsible for losing his Providential position in Abraham's family, and the blessing that came with it, God's promise to bless him became a commitment to be fulfilled in time.

Ishmael, like Jakob, became the father of the twelve sons who became the patriarchs of 12 tribes.

These 12 tribes, cousins to the 12 tribes of Israel, were progenitors (ancestors) of the Arabs.

The Ishmaelites inherited the burden of a blessing denied, which created a historical base for resentment towards the Israelites.

- 2) Meditation and prayer on the glory, greatness, and the message of God for spiritual growth;
- 3) Helping others by giving charity;
- 4) Austerity for self-purification by fasting in the month of Ramadan; and
- 5) Pilgrimage to the holy places.

The Prophet Mohammed

God has raised up many prophets, whom He has inspired with truth and wisdom, and the courage to share their understanding with others.

This is an evolving process: as human beings grow in understanding, God is able to reveal more and more of His will and truth to them.

Thus, Mohammed was sent by God as a prophet to shed light on areas of human ignorance and to build on the contributions of earlier religions in moving humanity towards a world of love, justice and goodness.

The Koran

The Prophet Mohammed received revelations from the angel Gabriel which were assembled into the suras, or chapters, of the Koran (or Qur'an).

Some of these addressed issues of the moment, especially in Mecca and Medina.

Others addressed the eternal questions of existence, providing a theological framework for understanding the universe and life and a system of religion-based laws, called sharia.

Sharia

The four main schools of sharia (guidelines and laws) in the majority *sunn*i tradition are all fundamentally important in the lives of hundreds of millions of Muslims.

Other schools of sharia, including those of the minority shia sects, have had similarly beneficial effects in the lives of those believers.

Unificationism agrees with Islam that because people live in the darkness of ignorance about God, they need laws to guide them towards maturity and enlightenment.

Islam's Contribution to the World

A millennium ago, when Europe was plunged in the 'Dark Ages', Islam flourished and made significant contributions to science, philosophy, mathematics and medicine.

Islam's Contribution to the World

There were Muslim philosophers and physicians such as Al Farabi, Ibn Sina (Avicenna to the West) and Ibn Rushd (Averroes); there were mathematicians such as Al Khawarizmi, considered the father of algebra; historians such as Ibn Khaldoun; and great mystical writers and poets such as Rumi and Al Ghazali.

Islam's Contribution to the World

Cities such as Isfahan and Bukhara, and later Cairo and Cordoba, were centers of scholarship and learning.

None was more outstanding than Baghdad.

The Fall of Man and Original Sin

The Koran describes the disobedience of the first man and woman, Adam and Eve, in literal terms.

Unificationism understands this disobedience to mean specifically that Adam and Eve failed to obey God's instructions for them to establish pure and moral lives as a man and woman separately, before being joined together by God as a married couple blessed with the fullest endowment of God's love.

The Fall of Man and Original Sin

As a blessed couple they would have been the parents of a sinless human race.

Their disobedience, or sin, was the original sin, which resulted in their descendants being born distant from God and sinful, a state of separation from God clearly demonstrated when

Cain, their first son, killed his own younger brother, Abel

Islam's View of Jesus

Jesus came as the second Adam with the mission to restore the original family and a pure lineage.

Unificationism agrees with Islam that Jesus was a sinless man, and not God.

It also agrees with Islam that Jesus came as the prophesied Messiah.

UNIFICATIONIST POSITIONS
ON KEY MUSLIM ISSUES
By Kevin Mc Arthy

The death (murder) of Jesus meant that the providence of salvation, or restoration, was prolonged.

It also meant that a place was created for the arrival of a new prophet and religion,
Mohammed and Islam.

Abraham, Isaac and Ishmael

If Abraham had not made an error in his sacrifice of animals, he would not have been called upon by God to sacrifice a son. Isaac and Ishmael.

Isaac fathered Jacob, who became the father of the 12 tribes of Israel, and Ishmael fathered the 12 tribes of the Arabs.

Resentments between the two estranged brothers became the seeds of historical resentment between the Ishmaelites and Israelites, the Arabs and the Jews.

Reconciliation Among Jews, Christians, Arabs and Muslims

God has worked with all the descendants of Abraham to raise them up in His image, to make them mature, loving men and women capable of fulfilling the original ideal of creation.

But despite all God's efforts, all too often the people He has loved and blessed have not fulfilled their portion of responsibility and have gone against God's will.

Mohammed
and Islam

The Ishmaelites inherited the burden of a blessing denied, which created a historical base for resentment towards the Israelites.

Mohammed
and Islam

The most important people to be embraced by Christianity in the crucial fifth and sixth centuries were the descendants of Abraham's sons, Ishmael and Isaac, because they had been chosen to lead the restoration.

The shortcomings in Christianity meant that it could not work with either the Jews or the Arabs to build a foundation for true parents.

Mohammed and Islam

Because of the problems associated with failed responsibilities in their own history with God, the Jews entered a long, dark era of suffering.

Meanwhile, God sent a prophet to uplift the descendants of Ishmael, whose blessing had not been realized since God had first promised it to their ancestor Abraham.

Mohammed
and Islam

The Mission of Mohammed

God chose to bless the Ishmaelites directly and set up a providence to complement and counterbalance Christianity by sending the prophet Mohammed to the Arabs.

Historically, Islam is the only major prophetic religion to appear since Jesus gave birth to Christianity.

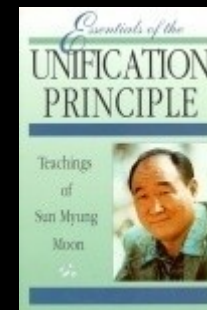

This makes Mohammed the last of the Abrahamic prophets.

Mohammed and Islam

Mohammed's mission was to purify the lineage of Ishmael, to separate it from idolatry and to provide it with a clear understanding of God's truth so that it could fulfill a providential role in preparing for true parents.

In this way, Mohammed would lay a foundation for true parents with Ishmael's descendants, bringing them directly into the orbit of the central providence of restoration.

Mohammed
and Islam

The Mission of Islam

Since God is one and His will is one, the mission for all religions is also one, to lead fallen humanity back to God.

Since fallen nature can only be removed completely through true parents, all religions work to prepare humanity to receive true parents.

Judeo-Christianity and Islam should cooperate like two brothers (Isaac/Ishmael) working together to prepare the way for true parents.

Mohammed and Islam

Mohammed and the Koran

Mohammed was born in 570 and spent the first forty years of his life preparing for his prophetic mission.

Surrounded by the idolatrous people of Mecca, in western Arabia, he sought the truth of God, which was revealed to him by the angel Gabriel.

Mohammed and Islam

The revelations he received were presented to him as the culmination of the prophetic tradition reaching all the way back to Adam.

They accepted the revelations of previous prophets and then added a body of instruction covering major theological issues and spelling out clear guidelines for a life of faith.

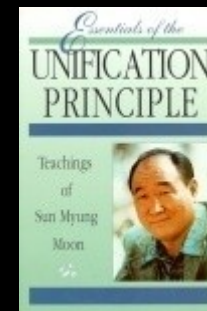

These revelations were given to Mohammed over a 21-year course, beginning in 610.

Mohammed
and Islam

Islam and Christianity

Jesus' course resulted in a spiritual victory and therefore the expansion of Christianity was on a spiritual level;
the victory of Mohammed was spiritual and physical and therefore the expansion of Islam took place on the spiritual and physical levels.

Mohammed
and Islam

Islam and Christianity

Differences between the two in the spiritual dimension reflected the two men's different missions, Jesus having been sent as the messiah and true parent, Mohammed as a prophet to prepare for the coming of true parents.

Since Christianity and Islam had parallel missions in preparing a foundation for true parents, there should have been a cooperative relationship between them in history.

2: God used Mohammed to bring truth and a way to restoration for many millions of people all over the world, people who without Islam would lack a deep and comprehensive understanding of God

3: Islam established a model for expansion on the prophetic level which parallels in some respects the model of expansion of the Kingdom of Heaven.

Mohammed pioneered a global providence to be perfected on the messianic level by true parents.

Lessons from Mohammed's Life Course

4: The prophetic foundation is to prepare believers for the coming of true parents.

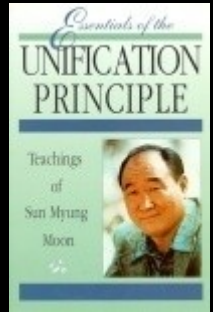

Muslims inherited the Judaic foundation plus the prophetic foundations of Jesus and Mohammed to prepare them for the true parents to come.

Lessons from Mohammed's Life Course

Conclusion

Mohammed was a successful prophet and statesman who in the brief span of 21 years went from persecuted-visionary to ruler of Arabia.

His success made Islam a powerful tool for the providence and the second largest religion in the world.

Conclusion

However, Islam was blessed by God not merely to fulfill His promise to bless Ishmael, but, more importantly, as part of His overall dispensation of restoration.

Therefore Islam's mission can only be completed in conjunction with God's work in other religions, especially Judaism and Christianity.

Spiritual Messages from the Prophet Mohammed

Spiritual Messages from the Prophet Mohammed

- My name is Mohammed. Allah is my witness that I left a clear prophecy about the return of Isa bn Maryam [the Christ]. I tried to meet the leaders of Mecca, but they always doubted, feeling that they were being deceived by Satan. It even became a matter of mockery among them.

- Tell them to stop shedding God's servants' blood for nothing but tribal purposes. Ask them whether they know the grief they are causing God. Tell them it is now time for the real Messiah on earth, so they must follow him. Tell them to follow Moon for their as well as our benefit.

Spiritual Messages from the Prophet Mohammed 2001

- Allah, God is the Parent of humanity.
If examined carefully, the original source of all doctrine or truth is one.
What religion would teach people to revere evil. Although their methods might differ, their fundamental purpose is to pursue goodness.
Because God is the original being of absolute goodness and love, and every religion teaches about love.

Although their methods might differ, their fundamental purpose is to pursue goodness. Because God is the original being of absolute goodness and love, and every religion teaches about love.
- Therefore, the fundamental teachings of each religion are quite similar. Now God's basic desires are to bring the truths and doctrines of all religions together and unite them as one. When it is done, God can finally rest.

- After countless days of waiting, God finally sent Reverend Sun Myung Moon for this purpose. Through him, the Unification Principle was revealed for the sake of the unification of all religions.

- The four major religious founders have united in one thought and idea. Jesus accepted Buddha, and vice-versa. We personally experienced God who is rejoicing to see us at the same seminar. Through that experience, we resolved to remain united as one.

Arab Spring – Arab turmoil, possible explanation

There are hundreds of billions of spirits in the spirit world.
Billions of spirits are on the attack to take hold over the physical world.

Neurosis is one resultant phenomenon of this reality.

After the year 2000, people will be able to communicate with each other spiritually.

Whether they communicate with evil or good spirits, they may fight even if they are ordered not to make war.

This time could come, but the mission of the Unification Principle is to prevent this.

A tall tower produces radio interference.

The phenomena of neurosis are like that.

The most fearful thing would be if only evil spirits mobilized and attacked the physical world.

What would happen if that were case?

Regardless of the number of people on earth, they would all be attacked by evil spirits.
